

Photos & video at Boglands

Consent form – your choice, every time

Workshops & glamping · Daingean, Co. Offaly · info@boglands.ie

We love sharing what happens at Boglands: thatching the crannog roof, working the hives, sparks at the forge and good times around the fire. Photos and video help other people see what our workshops are really like.

This is completely optional. Saying no won't affect your booking, your place or how we treat you in any way. Only tick the boxes you're happy with. A blank box means no.

Your choices tick any you are happy with – none are ticked for you

- ☐ Photos – you may take photographs of me.
 - ☐ Video – you may film me (video and sound).
 - ☐ Websites & social media – you may use photos or video of me on Boglands websites and social media (for example Facebook, Instagram and YouTube).
 - ☐ Online courses – you may use photos or video of me in Boglands Academy online courses (learn.boglands.ie).
 - ☐ Documentaries, films & books – you may use photos or video of me in documentaries and films (including those made by Bog House Media) and in printed books.
 - ☐ Name me (optional) – you may use my first name, or tag me, alongside photos or video. Without this we won't name or tag you.
- ☐ No thanks – please keep me out of photos and video.
On the day, just ask for a "no photos" lanyard or sticker. Wear it and we'll keep you out of shot, and remove you from any photos taken by mistake.

How we use your photos and video

Workshops & glamping · Daingean, Co. Offaly · info@boglands.ie

Who we are

The data controller is Wandering Albatross Ltd, trading as Boglands (CRO 435216), Daingean, Co. Offaly. Contact: info@boglands.ie.

What we collect

Photos and video of you (which can include your voice), plus the details on this form.

Why, and our legal basis

To show and teach what happens at Boglands on our websites, social media, Boglands Academy courses, documentaries, films and printed books, but only for the uses you've ticked. Our legal basis is your consent (Article 6(1)(a) GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018). We keep this form as a record of what you agreed to.

Who sees it

Content is published only where you've said yes. If you've ticked documentaries, films and books, we may share it with Bog House Media, who make our films, and with publishers and printers. Social media platforms (such as Meta and YouTube) host content under their own terms and may store it outside the EEA.

Changing your mind

You can withdraw or change any choice at any time, for free, by emailing info@boglands.ie. Withdrawing doesn't affect anything we did before you told us. We'll stop new use straight away and remove the content from our websites, social media and online courses within 30 days. Please note that content already printed (for example in a published book) or already broadcast or shared by other people may not be fully recallable. We won't use it in new editions or new productions.

How long we keep things

There is no fixed end date. We may keep and use photos and video of you, for the uses you've ticked, for as long as they're useful for promoting Boglands, unless you withdraw your consent (see Changing your mind). We keep this form (paper or online) for as long as we keep or use photos or video of you, so we can show what you agreed to. If you said no to everything, we keep the form for 12 months and then securely destroy it. Photos and footage we don't use are reviewed regularly and deleted when they're no longer needed.

Your rights

You have the right to access, correct or delete your personal data, to restrict or object to how it's used, and to data portability. Email info@boglands.ie and we'll reply within one month.

Complaints

If you're unhappy with how we handle your data, please tell us first. You also have the right to complain to the Data Protection Commission: www.dataprotection.ie.

Rather not be filmed? That is absolutely fine.

Ask for a "no photos" lanyard or sticker when you arrive. Our team will keep you out of shot, and if you turn up in a photo by mistake we will delete it or blur you out before anything is shared.
